Visitors To Our Website

When someone visits www.goldfromthestone.org.uk we use a third party service, Google Analytics, to collect standard internet usage information and details of visitor behaviour patterns. We do this to find out things such as the number of visitors to the various parts of the site. As soon as this information is collected through Google Analytics, users' IP addresses are made anonymous, and we will not make any attempt to find out the identities of those visiting our website. This data is retained for 26 months, after which time it is automatically deleted.

Our website is hosted by Squarespace. Apart from the analytical data captured by Google Tag Manager and Google Analytics, the website will also capture all requests made to the server to detect and prevent fraud and unauthorised access and to maintain server security.

We use cookies on our websites in order to make the websites work more efficiently as well as provide information on the use of the site. The cookies collect information in an anonymous form, including the number of visitors to the website and blog, where visitors have come to the website from and the pages they visited. PHF's cookie policy and information on how to change cookies settings is available here.
